

We like door hangers for organizing. Door hangers are one of the most versatile tools when you may have only 90 minutes in your week to volunteer. The best ones get stuck to people's refrigerators with a magnet. With no limit on the information that they can convey. From an up coming community meeting on a serious issue to a thank you note. Here are some examples.

Liberty Must Win!

Tuesday, Wednesday & Thursday nights are the best nights for most families to get out of house for an hour or two.

There are two basic reasons to organize.

1. Share information.
2. To find like minded people.

Social media has many limitations. One being that not every one has the same information. Another is connections 100 + miles away are no direct help in your neighborhood.

WE NEED TO ORGANIZE AND WORK TOGETHER.

WE NEVER DO ANYTHING TO MAKE WAVES

THE DIVIDE

NOTICE: There are people out in your neighborhood that do not know the meaning of Red Pill or Sheeple. Or any of the dozens of Great Awakening phrases.

FIX THAT !!

Step # 4

When you see this...

...(A) park car. (B) Hand
write information on door
hanger. (C) Put on front door.

STEP # 5

(A) Enjoy the pot luck dinner. (B) Talk to guests of what you can all do next. AND (C - Suggested) Sign guests up for THE S2 PROJECT(theS2project.com.) Because we know how to take it from here.

If you have ever put up lost dog posters or had a yard sale, you can organize where you live. The beginning mechanics or about the same. The purpose and reason is different. We have training and support to help you with the follow through.

If you have some skills with woodworking in the garage, door hangers are simple to print and cut out using heavy card stock by the stack. Go to <https://thes2project.com/contact> to ask for a variety of methods to make templates & jigs for the bandsaw and drill press.

NOT TO SCALE

Blank door hangers can also be found online and from a local printer for home publishing using a desktop printer.

Other reasons we like door hangers;

- They fit in glove boxes and back pockets.
- They get people coming to you.
- Door hangers can be repeated over and over in the same area with different bits of information.
- Simple or highly creative. The content is up to you.
- Getting them out in a small area takes little time.
- It's a task kids of about 10 and up can help with when supervised. Adds to life experience.
- Fresh air. Stretching your legs on your home turf. Detox from the digital world of TV and computer screens for a while.
- Meeting new people and reconnecting with old neighborhood friends.
